CARPET CUSHION

Let us show you why we're #1 in hospitality carpet cushion

The promise of quicker installation and affordable replacement is enticing. But the promise of faster and cheaper can be misleading.

Un-durable

Using carpet tiles in a high-traffic area leads to a high-maintenance area. Visible seams begin to rise with heavy use, creating unsightly trip hazards. And, once replaced, the new, bright-colored carpet tiles can be easily identified among the old, faded tiles.

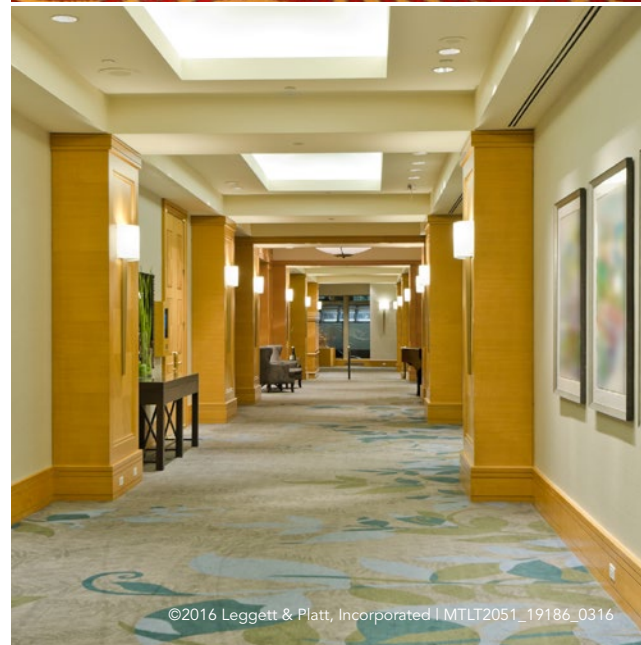

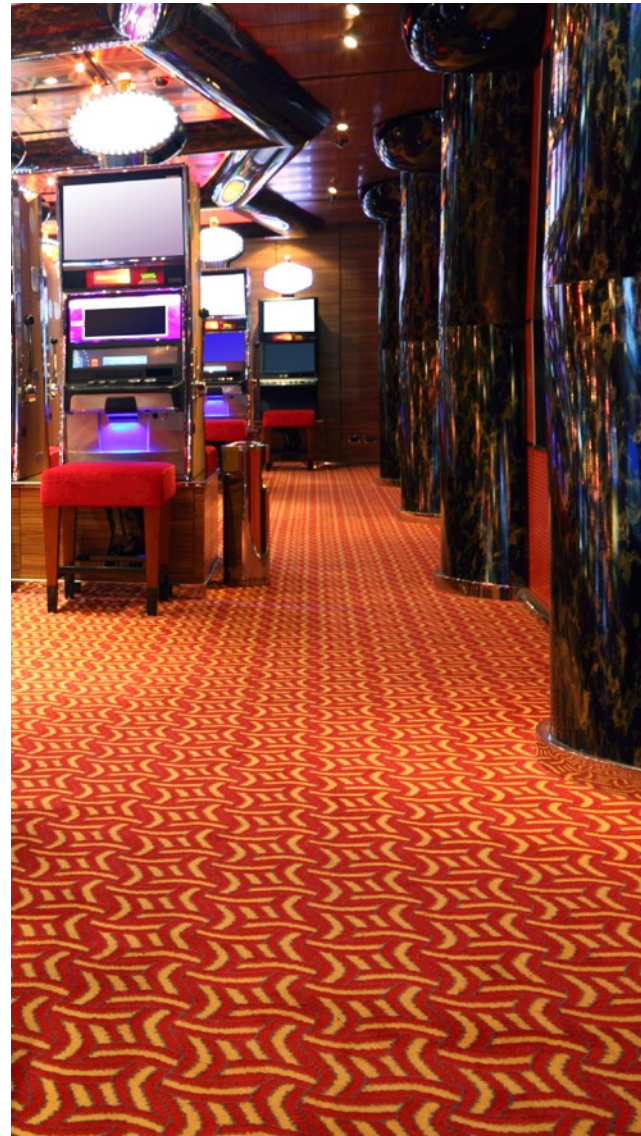

Uncomfortable

Carpet tiles have minimal to no cushion, providing little or no shock absorption. When walking across or standing on cushion-less areas for long periods, the feet, legs, and back can begin to feel fatigued. In a hospitality or commercial property, it's important to make your customers feel comfortable and welcome while ensuring the health and productivity of your employees.

Do it right the first time

The best choice for high-traffic areas is still Tred-MOR[®], the industry standard since 1985. Tred-MOR, made of synthetic rubber for added tensile strength and resiliency, is the perfect cushion selection to accompany broadloom carpets.
